THE report presented to the shareholders in the question of the Government grant to that useful and essentially public institution

Formerly the Government contributed the not very munificent but nevertheless useful sum of $600 per annum to the funds of the Hall. No one thought of objecting to this conditions to it, until Sir John Pope Hen-NESSY uncarthed what he was pleased to consider a grievance. For the convenience of visitors to the museum and for the preservation of order rules had been enforced setting aside certain separate times for Chinese. foreign, and Chinese female visitors. In these rules the late Governor professed to find a race distinct in, and demanded it a re-As the Committee could not, baxings. in view the welfare of the institution, submit to his dictation as to the rules, he withdrew the grant, after having vainly endeavoured to agement of the affairs of the Hall. Since then the institution has been carried on without | Government assistance, but the Committee now "trust that it may be found practicable that the usefulness of the institution may be ther, "That the Museum is much appreciated by certain classes of the community is amply testified by the fact that no less than 172,579 persons visited it between July 1st, 1882, and June 30th, 1883. Of these, 162,088 were Chinese, thus shewing clearly that the sions are not unpopular or unnecessarily time! I think, is ripe when we may ask the ! City Hall, We are shortly to have a rebers an expression of the public opinion on whose impartiality and sense of justice we -hope the forthcoming year will grant renewed, and that this is entitled to, public support." In speaking thus the Chairman echoed the sentiments of the community, and we trust his hopes as to the speedy renewal of the grant may be realised. The institution is one well worthy of the support regarded as a valuable educational agency placing before the view of the Chinese numerous articles with which it is desirable they should become acquainted, but which they would not have an opportunity of seeing or inspecting otherwise. It is to be regretted that the lack of funds has museum from made as useful and attractive as it might be, and it can only be looked upon as public diagraco that the Government of the Colony should withhold all support from such a deserving object. The museum was wisited last year, as stated in the report, by no less them 162,088 Chinese, as against 10.491 persons of other nationalities, so that the grant cannot reasonably be withheld on then dispersed.

ANE, CRAWFORD & Co., have received | the ground that the Chinese do not enjoy | their fair share of the benefits of the institution. Under these circumstances we fail to see that by renewing its former grant the Government would in any way be lending its countenance to objectionable class distinctions, and we trust that Sir George Bowen may be able to place the necessary sum for this purpose on the next estimates, and to renew the grant provisionally in the meantime.

In view of the approaching St. Andrew's Ball and the Real practiding that has already commenced the following extract from Madge's recent "Girls' Gossip" may be deemed appropriate and may lead to a little practising of the Highland Schottische also, if it is to have a place n the programme:-- We had a lovely dance last week. I do not fancy that Scotchmen waltz quite as well as Englishmen, but their conversation is less languid and their air less exhausted. Phey put abundance of vigour and energy into their performance of the Highland Schottische. Mr. China Sugar Refining Company (Debentures)——

Drew's remarks on this head brought Mr. Bam. 2 per cent. premium. ford on to his feet in defence of international Luzon Sugar Refining Company, Limited-$88 morality. While confessing that no nation had as yet adopted a very high moral standpoint in her dealings with other nations, he contended that England had lately made rapid strides in Hongkong and China Bakery Company, Limited the right direction, especially by her action in the Transvani at a time when her flag was said to be dragged in the mire. After a brief reply from Mr. Bright the meeting broke up. -N. C. Daily News.

The Imperial Chinese Band return in a day or two to Tientain. We hear that the sam subseribed for their concerts is not sufficient to cover the expenses incorred by their visit to Shanghai. The C. M. S. N. Co.'s new steamer Fushun, after having undergone the necessary repairs before being put on the regular line of steamers, Rat. went on her trial trip down the river on the 12th instant. There were a good number of gentle. men on board, amongst others the manager of . M. the company and other employées. Everythin : worked very satisfactorily, and the boat returned daring evening hours. The Fushun is still figing the British flag.

The 12th inst, was an important day for all connected with the Mized Court. Mr. Whung, the new magistrate of this Court, occupied the bench for the first time, on which for the last two decades old Chen was seated. Mr. Whomg is in outer appearance the very reverse of his predecessor. He is a young man of not quite thirty years of age, rather tall and of pleasant features. Chen could, on very rare occasions only, be seen smiling; percaps did he not like to expose his game, is which, like a solitary hermit, a single tooth stock, and which reminded one of the tooth of time. Mr. Whuang has an almost continuous smile round his lips, and his mouth then exhibits a fine set of teeth, which accomingly are very much cared for. The new magistrate is of a rather fair complexion, which gives him an appearance, as if he occasionally indulged in the fatel drug. Chên's voice might remind one of the creaking of a Chinese wheelbarrow; his successor's voice is pleasant. Mr. Whuang was dressed in his state robe; his head-gear displayed a dark blue button, which designates a rather low degree. The Courtyard and the Court room were crowded with natives, who came to have a look see at the new Minos. Chen's old yamen remore and ragamuffins were still in attendance Mr. Fratman occupied the Bench as British Assessor .- Mercury.

HANKOW.

9th November. Wet, thick, and dirty, miserable weather has prevailed all this month, which does not promise well for our Races on the 12th and 14th instant. But "it's an ill wind that blaws nasbody guid," and a wet, heavy course will probably bring hitherto despised ponies to the front.

At last we have some signs of the impending troubles down south, by the departure of a numbor of soldiers by the C. N. Co.'s steamer Pekin, which left last night, On enquiry I find that the soldiers, numbering 80, are the body-guard who was lately in charge at Yoh-chow-200. The soldiers are fine, robust men, but I cannot speak favourably of srms-old rusty "Tower muskets," which look neither ornsmental nor useful. Le Lun-shen is on his way to Wu Way-chu, inland from Wuba, to settle up his late period of office with the Commanderin-Chief Le Yun-mow.

The river, I am pleased to say, is folling at last, thereby giving us some bopes of paper hunting over good dry ground before Christmas, The Ewo register to-day showed 37 feet 11 in,-Changhai Courier Correspondent.

NEWCHWANG.

7th November. Our open season is now rapidly drawing to a close, and wild geese and ducks becoming scarce, having migrated to warmer climes. With our shipping the reverse is the case, every day in the last week having seen 4 or 5 vestels, steamers and sailing ships arriving, and our harbour shows | THE Undersigned has all kinds of House wall up with forty-three sail of all descriptions except a man-of-war.

The native merchants complain bitterly; pro- SMALL STEAMERS on hire for towing purduce is scarce and daily rising in price, so they have poses, exoursions, &c., &c., at extremely modements. The taw freights in the south induced HING LEE several vessels to come section here, and at present we have no less than seven of them, and not an offer for any of them for the last three weeks, and I am afraid most of thom will have to leave in ballast again or accept very low rates. To-day the steamer Husean arrived from Tientein to take a thousand braves away to Taku. It was first reported that the Hasan should go up to Tingsung Tal, a large village about 20 miles higher up the river, to embark the soldiers there;

EXTENSIVE FIRE IN YOKOHAMA.

After a fortunate immunity of several months Yokohama has again been visited by an extensive conflagration, which had its origin in a bathhouse near the Zo-toku-in-Temple, in Honmura. The fire was discovered about half-past two s.m. on the 9th inst. and soon got a good hold of the surrounding houses, and spread up the valley
